Selected Classes

Typography 3 | 2021-2022

Typography III is the culmination of RISD's typography sequence, with an emphasis on typography and contemporary display platforms. Worked with AfterEffects, Indesign, and Premiere Pro to create kinetic typography.

Fundamentals of Architecture | 2022

The fundamental ideas informing architecture are various and serve as the starting point of design. Understanding architectural principles informs practice in graphic design and challenges the potential of design.

Web Programming | 2022

Using HTML, CSS and Javascript coding languages, this workshop combines the tactical skills needed to structure web pages with a looser and playful compositional mindset.

Studio Photography | 2022

This workshop introduces studio photography for designers with an emphasis on lighting techniques. Additional attention is given to digital file preparation and printing.
